Notes for Thomas Fletcher Carrick:

Thomas F. Carrick

Born September 24, 1845

Born in Bedford County, TN.

In about 1921-1922 lived in Daylight, TN.

Was in Civil War - Confederate Soldier

Company H, 21st Tenn Cavalry

Father was: James Carrick - born in Rutherford County - Lived in Cannon County some.

Mother Maiden Name was: America West - She was daughter of Isaac West and Sarah Moore of Bedford County, TN.

Thomas F. Carrick's in 1922 was 76 years old and lived in Daylight, Tennessee, Route #1. He was born in Bedford County, Tennessee, and during the Civil War fought for the Confederacy, Co. H. 21st Tennessee Cavalry. His father James Carrick, was a farmer and blacksmith, and was born in Rutherford County, Tennessee. Thomas F. Carrick's mother was America West, the daughter of Isaac West and Sarah Moore of Bedford County, Tennessee.

Thomas Carrick's Grandfather Carrick was Scotch-Irish - He was killed near Ten Springs, Now Nashville, led by half-breed Indian, Tim Turnbridge. Thomas F. Carrick's Grand Father West was soldier under Andrew Jackson. His Great Grandfather Smith was an old Indian fighter and hunter and lived near Fosterville, Tennessee. Thomas Carrick's father did not own any slaves but his grandparents did, and Mr. Carrick's parents owned 100 acres of land. When the Civil War started, Mr Carrick said land was about $10.00 per acre, and that they lived in a comfortable log house. He said that before the Civil War he would plow on the farm, use a hoe and reaper. His father farmed and ran a blacksmith shop and his mother spun and wove clothes for the family. Thomas Carrick said that he never wore a suit of store-bought clothes until several years after the end of the Civil War.

His Parant didn't keep house servants. He said the school he attended was made of logs and the seats were split logs, and that schooling only lasted 3 or 4 months per grade. The nearest school from his home was about one or two miles, and both men and women taught there.

Mr Carrick said he was too young when he first tried to enlist during the Civil War, but in 1863 he ran away and joined the 21st. Tennessee Cavalry. They first went to North Carolina thru South Carolina. He said he was a scout and daily fighting was common for him. His first battle was Shoal Creek. From Shoal Creek he was sent, along with several other men, into Tennessee where he suffered from frost-bitten feet. Mr Thomas F. Carrick said that the latter part of his service during the Civil War was spent as a scout, or to be more plain, a guerrilla or bushwhacker. He was cut off from his regiment when Hood retreated from Nashville and had three recruits with him, James Bynum, George Moore, and Newton Low. He tried to overtake his forces but failed, so he said he was forced to "paddle his own canoe" and take care of those splendid boys. Several of his company surrendered after being cut off by Hood's retreat.

Mr Carrick said he refused to surrender and kept his arms until May 31st., 1865. He said "I had five boys with me, John T. Morgan, Bob Gilly, James Bynum, George Moore and Newton Low. We ranged in Cannon, Warren, Coffee and Rutherford Counties, Tennessee. We fought the Yankees and never lost a single fight. Me and James Bynum attacked and drove off 18 Yankees from Jimmie Jameson's still house one day. The Yankees reported 40 of us but only two of us made the attack. Shortly after a march, six of us attacked a company of Negroes at Taylor's Campground in Cannon County, killing several and wounding others. Just how many Yankees my little band killed and captured I am not able to say, but the Yankees claimed we had killed and captured Forty of their men. It was hot times. They killed my father and burned my grandfathers house after I agreed to quit. Mrs. Doctor Hoover of Hoover's Gap in Coffee County, Tennessee was our go-between. I have kept the faith ever since I surrendered; not a Yankee was present at our surrender. I went North and stayed until the Yankee army left Tennessee, then I came home and wrote the homemade Yankees a nice letter saying I was at home and me and them could not breath the same air together. They left and I am still in Tennessee. In them days I feared no living man and I have always stood for law and order and I have had some tussles with the few dirty whelps that infiltrated our country and I'm still standing for the best. My life has been given for my country. Many things I could tell about the dark days of the 1860's and up but it would be no (use). All I regret now is I couldn't do more."

Thomas Carrick said he was born September 24th., 1845, and his Civil Was Pension Number was 9803.

This is another version of this history as compiled by William Ray Turner Joined the Conferdate Army in 1863 - Exact date unknown. Was behind the enemy lines for 5 months with 5 or 6 other men. Was a Deputy United States Marshall during the Presidency of Cleveland and Harrison. Coal Miner at Tracy City. Studied Socialism and believed that to be the hope of the working class. In 1922 Mr Carrick said that the latter part of his service to the Confederacy was as a scout or to be more plain a guerilla or bushwhacker. He said "Being cut off from my Regt. on account of Hood's retreat from Nashville and having three recruits with me, Jas Bynum, George Moore, and Newton Low I made an effort but failed to overtake our forces so I was left to paddle my own canoc and take care of these splendid boys, many of the boys tho cut off by Hoods Retreat surrendered and several of my company gave up but I refused to surrender and boldly kept my arms until 31st day of may 1865. I had with me 5 boys, John T. Morgan, Bob Gilly, James Bynum, George Moore and Newton Low. We ranged in Cannon, Warren, Coffee and Rutherford Counties, Tennessee.
