Isham Dykes, Sr.

Progenitor of Dykes in Grundy County Tennessee

There have been Dykes in the United States since the 1600's. Several persons have published trees that purport to trace the line back to a William Del Dykes in England around 1230. It makes a great tree, spanning over 14 generations. Unfortunately the connection to "Old" William Dykes, the father of our Isham Dykes Sr, is at best a good guess, but not a genealogical fact even though several different names have been published on the Internet and re-circulated until they appear to be fact.

This might upset some who have adopted and published this big tree, but nine serious Dykes researchers working over the past 30 years have not yet found any genealogical evidence of "Old" William's father, although there are several good suspects. Publishing incorrect trees only hinders the search for his parents. Should anyone have any genealogical evidence of "Old" William's parentage, other than internet trees or right name, date and location, they are seriously requested to contact the author. There were proportionately many more Dykes in the 1700's than there are now. Its not that we cannot find any Dykes, it's that we cannot connect them.

The Dykes name has a long history in England. The name Dykes means "dike" or wall, and it derives from where these Dykes resided near Hadrian's Wall on the English/Scotch border. We would love to connect these Dykes to our "Old" William Dykes

The proven Tennessee Dykes line starts with "Old" William Dykes and his wife Susannah Lankford, who were the parents of our Isham Dykes Sr, who married Prudence Choate.

"Old" William is the progenitor of the Dykes in Tennessee. He was living in Surrey County, North Carolina in 1771 in an area that is now Stokes County. One census lists him as a "Virginian".

On August 31, 1781 in Surrey County, NC, William Dykes and his wife Susannah sold 17 acres on the North side of the Dan River in St. Jude's parish, to Benjamin Isbell. That land had been inherited from Susannah's father James Lankford according to his will written in 1772, and proven in February 1778

In 6 April 1783, William Dykes purchased a North Carolina Revolutionary War land grant for land in an area that was then North Carolina and is now Tennessee. He purchased the grant from Thomas Vincent, and was issued Land Warrant #1262. These land records are in the North Carolina archives. These lands were first granted in 1779 to Col. Abraham Sheppard for his war service, but he was suffering from his war wounds and assigned the grant to George Vincent, who in turn assigned it to Thomas Vincent on 13 September 1782, who then assigned it to “Old” William Dykes “Old” William disappeared from the Surrey County tax lists after 1772 and it is assumed that he moved about then with his family to the land grant in Sullivan County, Tennessee, in what is now Hawkins County, and settled on Beech Creek, east of Church Hill Tennessee. Since the Cherokee and Chickamauga Wars occurred in this area between 1776 and 1794, the area was wilderness, wild, and dangerous.

It turns out that the land grant was mis-surveyed, and the true owners did not pay property taxes on it. “Old” William had to buy the property back at tax sale in 1812.

“Old” William’s children as listed in his will were: Mary, John, our Grundy County Isham (Sr), James, Priscilla, Anne, Sarah, and William (II)

Isham (Sr) and his wife Prudence Choate were with his sisters Mary, Priscilla, and Sarah, along with their husbands in 1806. In 1820 he and John Robertson, Susan’s husband, were in White County when they started their trip to Warren (Grundy) County Tennessee. John Robertson died on the trip, reportedly from an overturned wagon.

So the Grundy County Dykes originated in 1820 with Isham Sr. Many researchers have accurately recorded his descendents and they will not be covered here, other than to mention his children: Celia, Jemima, Temperance, Mary, Rebecca, John, Nancy, Susan, Prudence, Malinda, Isham Jr and Eulitia. All were born in Warren/Grundy County.

All of Isham’s descendents qualify as “First Families of Franklin” because of “Old” William’s arrival in Tennessee in the 1780s. At that time the land was still in North Carolina.

Isham’s land fell in Grundy County when that county was formed from Warren County, on the NE corner of that county. This land is now the only virgin forest left in Tennessee and is now a state park.

I leave it to the descendents of Isham Dykes Sr to document and publish the subsequent history of the Grundy County Dykes.

The author invites those desiring more information on the Dykes in Tennessee, or having corrections or information to add to the family history are encouraged to write to the author – John Dykes, the GGGGGS of “Old” William, at 5579B Chamblee-Dunwoody Rd, Ste #411, Atlanta, Georgia, 30338 or by email to jhdykes@gmail.com
