

Xtra
my copy

Pigeon Springs Cemetery
Marion County, Tennessee
Access through Pigeon Rd., Tracy City, TN
On private land owned by Robin Dykes Family

Anderson, Jane K. (wife)
Anderson, Samuel (husband)
Anderson, Lavina (daughter)

Braden, Mike—Michael (from death certificate--21 yrs. Died July 18, 1918, Parents—Isaac and Rachel Braden)

Hargis, Mary M.
Hargis, Rev. Thomas

Hargis, Catherine
Hargis, Elizabeth
Hargis, William L.

Headrick, ? (child of Lem and Mattie Headrick—info verbally from Charles Dykes. Charles thinks the child was a son and was stillborn)

Speegle, Alfred (husband)
Speegle, Melvina (second wife) (his first wife Rebecca, Melvina's sister, may also be buried there)

NOTE: Not too many years ago, a family came from North Carolina looking for the grave of their father, Alfred Speegle. They said that he had left their mother and a house full of children and disappeared. They said that it was very hard on their mother raising them. They just wanted to know where he ended up. Ironically, they planted lilies around the old big tree at the cemetery.

Taylor, Beverly (Bev)—November 14, 1888/March 20, 1916

Taylor, Minnie Lee—January 15, 1906/February 22, 1909—

(daughter of B. B. and G. M. Taylor)

NOTE: Bev Taylor's wife lived many years and was not buried at Pigeon Springs Cemetery.

Tharp, Wiley N.—(from death certificate, 18yrs., died 08 Sept 1918, father William B. Tharp, mother Mahaley C. Hargis; accidentally shot near Tatesville by a Miss Martin)