ENRAGED HUSBAND KILLS ESTRANGED WIFE

Shotgun Is Used to Commit Deed.

Domestic Troubles Said to Be Cause of Rash Act---
Roddy Said to Be Hiding
in Forest---Mrs. Roddy Buried Tuesday,

Mrs. Sue Woodlee Roddy, 29, was shot and killed Sunday night while she sat listening to a radio program after putting her three small children to bed.

Her husband, Werner Roddy, from whom she had been separated for some time, is sought for the fatal shooting. Officers were told he went to the house in an intoxicated condition and attempted to enter. The doors and screens were locked and a blast from the shotgun was fired through one of the screens, the charge striking Mrs. Roddy in the side.

Sheriff on Scene.

Sheriff J. L. McGovern, who was called to the house immediately after the shooting, forced an entrance. He reported that he found Mrs. Roddy still alive and summoned an E. C. Norvell ambulance, which took her to the Newell Sanitarium in Chattanooga in 1 hour and 5 minutes. She was pronounced dead on arrival, however, and the body was returned to this city.

Sister's Story.

Mrs. Edwin Newton, sister of Roddy, is said to have told officers that her brother came to her home earlier in the evening in an intoxicated condition and told her that he was going to kill Mrs. Roddy. Mrs. Newton said she pleaded with him, but that he grabbed a shotgun and started for the home of his estranged wife. His sister, it is said, followed him, but arrived at the Roddy home after Mrs. Roddy had been shot, and neighbors, aroused by the shooting, had gathered.

Tells of Deed.

Raymond Martin, a neighbor, it is said, reported to officers that Roddy came to his place after the shooting and said:

"I killed my wife."

Martin said he did not believe the man at the time.

Sheriff McGovern and other county officers are searching for Roddy, who, they say, has apparently escaped into the forest.

Funeral Held Tuesday.

Mrs. Roddy's funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. A. C. Adamz conducting the services. The body was laid to rest in the City Cemetery, the E. C. Norvell Co. in charge.

Besides her father, Harris Woolee, Mrs. Roddy is survived by three small children.

Truth And Herald Manager And Wife In Auto Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Alexander had a n automobile accident in Shelbyville, Monday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock.

They were driving north on the street leading from the public square to the Murfreesboro pike and were in the act of passing a car driven by Miss Martha Lee of Shelbyville. The two cars collided when the young lady, without signaling began to turn around in the street in front of the Alexander car.

As a result of the collision, Mrs. Alexander, who was thrown against the windshield, sustained a bruise on her forehead and numerous body bruises. Mr. Alexander, sustained a cut over the right eye and body bruises.

Miss Lee experienced no injuries except extreme nervous shock from which she is reported to be recovering.

Both automobiles were badly damaged.

Following the accident, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were carried to the office of Dr. Avery, where they received medical attention, and later returned to their home in Winchester, where they are improving.

Mr. Alexander is Business Manager of The Truth and Herald, Winchester weekly, and has many friends here who will regret to learn of the accident.

TRAGEDY CITY.—A charge of shot from the gun of Werner Roddy, State employe, killed his wife Sunday night and left three children motherless.

Roddy is shown in the lower picture holding his youngest child on the porch of his home before he and his wife were separated.

While preparations were being made for Mrs. Roddy's funeral Wednesday, Grundy County officers were searching for her husband, who took to the woods immediately after he shot her. She was fatally wounded as she sat in her home reading a paper while her three children were sleeping.

THREE LITTLE ORPHANS

This is a snapshot of Nancy, Marguerite and Bobby Roddy, orphan children of the late Lyda Sue Roddy, former member of Cumberland Council No. 46, Tracy City, Tennessee. This is one of the happy groups which the Orphans' Fund is caring for each month. While all children on the fund are worthy of our care and interest, yet this is one of the most deserving cases on our books. The mother of these children was murdered by her drunken husband in 1937. He fled after committing the crime and has never been apprehended. An aged aunt is furnishing these children with a loving, Christian home. We want our members to know that their gifts to the Orphans' Fund are contributing to a humanitarian work of which these are sam- ples. We are sure that you will need no other prompting to continue your work for this cause.

MILITARY STORY

PVT. ALBERT D. RODDY CONFEDERATE STATES ARMY

Albert D. Roddy enlisted into the Confederate States Army on 4 Nov 1861. He joined "Company L" (subsequently known as Company G), 24th Tennessee Infantry, serving under Capt. W.W. Mays (Co.L) and Capt. W.M. Bennett (Co.G).

Albert Roddy joined his fellow soldiers along with his two brothers, B.F. Roddy & J.G. Roddy, at Camp Anderson, Tennessee. From Camp Anderson the Roddy brothers marched to Bowlinggreen, Kentucky, then on to Cave City, Kentucky, finally to Camp Joe Underwood, Kentucky.

While at Camp Joe Underwood Roddy's unit engaged in battle with Federal Troops (Union Soldiers) where many Federal Soldiers were captured and killed. From here in Feb. 1862 Company L began their march to Corinth, MS. During this march Albert Roddy and brother, J.G. Roddy became ill, with Albert getting the measles. (Albert, born on 15 Jul 1840, was just 21 years old at this time.)

Because of Albert & J.G. Roddy's illnesses they were transported by railroad to Nashville, TN. Later they joined their CSA unit as they were retreating through Nashville, TN. The Roddy brothers then began a march with their Company to Shelbyville, TN where Albert Roddy was then sent to a hospital in Atlanta, GA. Although weak Albert Roddy recovered from the measles and rejoined his brothers and his unit.

Albert Roddy and his brothers and their CSA unit (now Co. G.) fought on 6 Apr 1862 at the Battle of Shiloh (TN). According to the commander of Company G, Capt. W.M. Bennett, J.G. Roddy was shot in the arm and brother B.F. Roddy was shot in the chin and tip of tongue. Due to these wounds brother Albert D. Roddy was "left behind to take care of them" as well as other wounded Confederate Soldiers were left behind as Company G withdrew (retreated) to Corinth, Mississippi. All the wounded, including the Roddy brothers, were captured by the Federal Troops (Union Army).

Due to the gun-shot wounds of J.G. & B.F. Roddy and the fact that poor old Albert Roddy was still ill the Federals released the Roddy brothers. Since it was obvious they were not in any condition to fight, they were released without even taking the "Oath of Allegiance" (and the promise not to rage war against the Union). At this moment it appears the brothers separated, possibly due to their physical conditions one couldn't keep up with the other, and they headed home.

J.G. Roddy returned home to Hillsboro, TN first, on furlough due to his arm wound. Later Albert Roddy (1863), still listed as "absent without leave" on CSA records returned home. There briefly Albert Roddy was able to see his father, Daniel Roddy. (Albert Roddy, now 23 years old, would take time to marry his first wife: Louisa Fadden, on 7 Oct. 1863.)

In the fall of 1863 Federal Troops began marching and raiding the Hillsboro, TN area. J.G. and Albert Roddy slipped into the mountain area near Hillsboro, TN. It was here that J.G. Roddy noticed that brother Albert was once again feeling ill. Due to pressure the two brothers seperated for fear of both being captured.

Albert D. Roddy was again captured by the Federal Troops at Hillsboro, TN, he was caught hiding in the mountains. He was taken to Tullahoma, TN and then to Nashville, TN when and where he contracted smallpox. It appears that Albert Roddy was given time to recover from the case of smallpox before he was transported to a P.O.W. camp.

Albert D. Roddy was transported to Johnson Island, Ohio and held as a Prisoner of War until the end of the War Between the States (Civil War). Albert Roddy was released on 22 Jun 1865.

With the War over Albert D. Roddy returned home to Hillsboro, TN, not returning to his CSA unit (Co.G.) since the Confederate Army no longer existed. (this action would cause him not to receive his Soldier's Pension which he applied for on 26 Apr 1909. The Government on 26 May 1911 rejected Albert Roddy's application (#11.197) based upon this lame excuse of failure to return to active duty...and the fact that he was still listed as "absent without leave", yet the Government knew where he was...they had him!)

Albert would arrive home to Hillsboro, TN in time to father three children with his wife, Louisa Fadden, and move to Tracy City, Grundy Co., TN. before his wife died in 1869. Albert would remarry on 1 Jan 1879 to Parlee Bailey (dau. of Rev. John W. Bailey & Sarah A. McClung) and would father two more children.

Albert D. Roddy would spend the rest of his life in Tracy City, Grundy Co., TN., working for the railroad and working hard at the coal mines of the TN Consolidated Coal Company. Albert passed away on 31 Mar 1914.
